Lights On Tampa is a new biennial program of the City of Tampa, Public Art Program, a division of the Department of Arts & Cultural Affairs. It is a public/private partnership that has grown out of a local grassroots effort and is intended as a cultural/aesthetic event that engages, entertains, and educates.

fuse architecture, illumination and music with a large-scale interactive light show, and to provide viewers with an interactive approach. The show itself is programmed and then transmitted on short-throw FM radio, giving viewers the option of bringing their own listening devices and hearing the show in their own way—be it loud, soft or even on a portable radio to share the experience with others.

The mission of the City of Tampa's public art program is to promote the involvement of artists in
