Co-Chair Dr. Ginger Clark began the meeting with a welcome to the Ybor Campus of Hillsborough County Community College. She requested John Flanagan to speak and he shared with the group that this is a high priority, and the mayor has the ability to provide more visibility and leveraging of the plan this team will create. Co-Chair Clark thanked the team for their continued passion and efforts since day one of this team's formation.

Tables were set up for a brainstorming session discussing: a) awareness, b) connections, c) education, and d) pathways. The team members joined the groups they participated in at the last meeting and began to take the ideas from that meeting and convert them into a specific action plan.

Transition Lead Carole Post reminded the team that this is a public meeting, and they will allot some time at the end for anyone from the public that wishes to speak. She then provided the groups with charts and sample drafts from the other advisory teams to help them distinguish which ideas the mayor might be able to propel with a determined focus on employment in the construction field, also to use as a guide for their discussions today.

Highlights from each group discussion:

EDUCATION:

- Create resource guide – showing how to get from education level now to where you want to be.
- Match.com example – of how to put everyone at the table – to match employers to employees, engaging the community.
- Create resource website – to include all of the community, churches, businesses, non-profits, parents, students, colleges, incentives, training, recruiting

CONNECTIONS:

- Three main parts to connect – fulltime paid staff – what that looks like – kinds of job/wages
- Need launching press conference to know about program – digital ads where they are
- Reach out to include, construction industry, finance, healthcare, all industries
- Info Portal – mobile in community outside of “9 to 5” to allow all to participate after work
- Wrap around - look at barriers – transportation/biking – identification – language

AWARENESS:

- Need to be parallel to businesses – invite businesses/contractors already certified to do business with the city – bring them together at the facility or an expo
