

Proclamation

Jane Castor, Mayor

WHEREAS, Family Abduction Awareness Day is an initiative to educate the public about the dangers children face within our communities nationwide, and recent studies indicate that 13.4 percent of parents and their children have been victims of parental alienation behavior with nearly half of those severe cases; and

WHEREAS, family abduction occurs when a child is taken, wrongfully retained, or concealed by a parent or other family member, depriving another individual of their right to custody, visitation, or other contact; and

WHEREAS, family abduction characteristics include emotional and psychological trauma to a child and their parent and family members left behind, creating frustration and worry, and it can be considered a form of child abuse in that it disallows a young person access to both loving parents, siblings, and other family members; and

WHEREAS, not just a civil matter, but a serious crime throughout the nation and a form of child abuse, law enforcement's responsibility is to assure that the child is with the person who has lawful custody and for verifying the validity of any court orders, and they do not ascertain the merits of a case or a child's preference, and the possible criminal criteria includes interference with custody and parental kidnapping; and

WHEREAS, many organizations such as the National Parents Organization, are committed to their missions that include improving the lives of children and strengthening society by protecting every child's right to the love and care of both parents after a separation or divorce.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jane Castor by virtue of the authority vested in me as Mayor of the city of Tampa, Florida, do hereby proclaim Sunday, May 25, 2025, as in the city of Tampa, Florida, and urge all citizens to advocate for the reunification of children who are missing from their family members, and thank those individuals, organizations, law enforcement, and the justice system for their efforts in this important and worthy cause.

"FAMILY ABDUCTION AWARENESS DAY"

Dated in Tampa, Florida this 24th day of March 2025.

Jane Castor

Mayor